RECORD-BREAKING CROWDS SEE FAIR ON CITIZENS' DAY

Last Year's Attendance Exceeded by 1,938 Admissions—Huge Livestock Show in Front of Grandstand and Horse Racing Prove Leading Attractions—Midway Proves Popular

VICTORIA literally "went to the fair" yesterday, and celebrated Citizens' Day with a record attendance. Paid admissions totaled 11,334, with 1,483 city relief tickets, or a gross of 12,817. Last year there were but 10,879 visitors, and the increase from 1936, therefore, amounts to 1,938 admissions.

Loudspeakers blared, shrill-voiced barkers extolled their wares and their shows, as the thousands passed through the turnstiles, and took the ways their fancy dictated.

A civic half-holiday, and one of the finest days of Indian Summer combined to bring Victorians to the grounds in such great numbers. The horse races were watched by a crowd that filled the grandstand, and incidentally warmly applauded the magnificent showing of livestock that came from the barns, out to the Willows oval.

The display was one of the outstanding features of the afternoon. Led by a smart mounted detachment of Provincial Police, and Cimjott's magnificent Arabians, the draft horses, thoroughbreds, and aristocracy of farm and field were massed in imposing array. Each

MONOPOLISTIC CONTROL URGED

Trades Congress Asks Government to Handle Nickel And Radium Output

OTTAWA, Sept. 15 (P)—Demand that the Government assume monopolistic control of radium and nickel was made today in two resolutions adopted by the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada as that workers' parliament reached the half-way mark in its fifty-third annual convention.

The convention censured the nation's two major railway systems for their train-pooling policy, urged congress officials to press the Dominion Government for reform in railway pension laws, and rejected a resolution that would have permitted representatives of unemployed workers' organizations to join district labor councils, with speaking and voting privileges.

GOVERNMENT CONTROL

From the Alberta Federation of Labor came resolutions asking Government control of the two minerals. In the first the federation recognized the wealth of radium deposits in the Northwest Territories and expressed its desire to see them nationalized.

It described the deposits as "one of the richest known sources for the obtaining of radium" and asked that the Government "establish its monopoly of this radium to the end that by this method the scientific benefits that can accrue from this mineral will be more easily available to the people of Canada."

NICKEL RESOLUTION

Desire to prevent Canadian nickel reaching belligerents was in delegates' minds as they voted for the Alberta group's second resolution, asking a Government monopoly on production, processing and distribution of the metal and urging that none be exported to any country unable to prove it is intended for domestic consumption only.

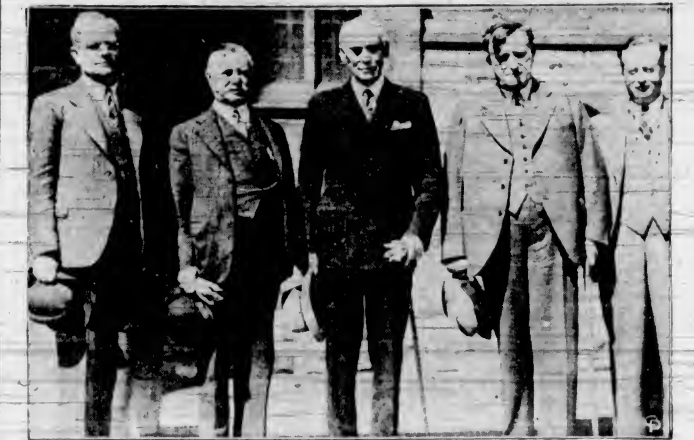

Oil Tanker Attacked by Rebel Plane

HENDAYE, France, Sept. 15 (AP)—The British steamship Hillfenn emerged unscathed from an attack by an insurgent trawler and warplane off Government-held Gijon Monday night, it was learned here. The insurgent plane flew low over 1,500-ton tanker, peppering her deck with machine-gun fire in an effort to ignite her cargo of oil.

Ten Billion Dollars Clipped From Stock Values in Month

NEW YORK, Sept. 15 (P)—The sweeping decline in stock prices during the past month is estimated to have chopped roughly ten billion dollars from the value of all common stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange.

Analysts point out there are some 1,295,715,000 common shares listed on the "big board." The broadest available average of stock prices, compiled by Hamerslag, Borg & Co., including 687 common issues, was $40.61 on August 14. By September 13, it had declined to $32.56.

Multiplying the number of outstanding shares by average prices places the total at $52,659,000,000 on August 14 and $42,351,000,000 on the later date.

WATER SHORTAGE IN PRAIRIE CITY

Moose Jaw Faced With Seriously Reduced Supply—Federal Assistance Sought

MOOSE JAW, Sept. 15 (P)—This Southern Saskatchewan city faced a shortage of water and, unless there is a heavy rainfall, rationing will be enforced.

The city needs approximately 1,200,000 gallons daily, but various sources—Snowy Springs, Britannia and Forsyth Wells and Caron Springs—supply only 600,000 gallons daily.

The Caron Springs, twenty miles west of the city, are the principal source, but normal production of 325,000 gallons a day has dropped 80,000 gallons recently.

The city council has communicated with Ottawa stressing the seriousness of the situation and urging the Dominion Government take action.

Girl Gives Life Saving Baby Sister From Train

SYDNEY MINES, N.S., Sept. 15 (P)—Seven-year-old Jeanette Shaw died beneath the wheels of a freight train near here today as she saved her baby sister from a like fate. Netta, the seventeen-month-old sister, was found near the tracks where her elder sister had pushed her. The baby was taken to hospital with undetermined injuries.

Chinese Defence Holds Intact on Shanghai Front

Japanese Score Only Minor Gains in Day of Bitter Fighting—Neutral Naval Commanders Warn Against Anti-Aircraft Fire Over International Settlement—Great Offensive Near Peiping

SHANGHAI, Sept. 15 (P)—The Japanese army, firmly implanted in the Whangpoo-Yangtze triangle and commanded by one of Tokyo's highest generals, today hurled all its force against newly-strengthened Chinese lines north of Shanghai, but could report only minor gains.

After a day of bitter-fighting in rain and mud, the Japanese announced advances near Lotten, northwest of Shanghai, but elsewhere along the new twenty-five-mile front from Shanghai to the Yangtze Estuary the Chinese lines held firm.

REFUSING TO WORK VESSEL

Sailors of British Ship at Port Alberni Want War Bonus

PORT ALBERNI, Sept. 15 (P)—The British steamer Dalroy, her crew of thirty-five refusing to work the vessel in the Sino-Japanese war zone without a bonus, was tied up at this Vancouver Island West Coast port tonight.

Loaded with a cargo of logs for Dalen, Manchoukuo, the ship lay idle as the crew of British and Malayan seamen refused to work unless a bonus of $75 each was granted them.

Earlier, three Provincial Police, under Sergeant G. J. Duncan, boarded the ship to stand by as Captain D. Russell read the "Log Book" to the crewmen. The reading explained to the men the seriousness of refusing to work the vessel.

HEAT SCORCHES SOUTHERN AREA

Los Angeles Reports Eighteen Suicides—115 Deg. in Imperial Valley

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 15 (P)—Hot, oppressive weather enveloped the Pacific Coast area today from Portland to the Mexican border, breaking temperature records in some sections, causing scores of prostrations and at least two deaths. In the four-day heat wave in Los Angeles, eighteen persons have committed suicide.

TWENTY-FOUR VICTIMS

The thermometer climbed to 115 degrees today in California's scorching Imperial Valley, a cotton and vegetable-growing area, and George Neilson, fifty-four, was found dead in bed at El Centro. His death brought the Imperial Valley's fatality toll from the heat this summer to twenty-four. It was 115 degrees today in Brawley and 99 in Los Angeles.

Riverside's 107 today was the hottest of the year. It was cooler today in Oregon, where all-time heat records were established in some spots yesterday. Fire danger still existed in Northwest forests.

MORE PARALYSIS CASES REPORTED

Mining Settlement in Manitoba Afflicted—Ontario Has Thirty More in Twenty-Four Hours

By the Canadian Press
The scourge of infantile paralysis, centred in Ontario, continued unabated yesterday despite cool weather that made hundreds of thousands of parents hopeful the epidemic was at least tapering off.

There was no sign this was the case. Weather approached freezing in Manitoba yet the tiny mining settlement of Sheridan, 400 miles northwest of Winnipeg, sent out an alarm that the disease had reached there. Eight persons were ill, including Mrs. Archie McGraw, wife of the medical health officer, and their eighteen-month-old daughter.

FLIES WITH SERUM

Help was rushed to Sheridan by Dr. C. E. Donovan, provincial epidemiologist, flying north to the settlement with infantile paralysis serum. A total of fifteen new cases were reported yesterday in Manitoba, bringing the number of cases to 150 since early June. Six deaths have been reported.

Ontario's deputy health minister, Dr. B. T. McGhie, said the total number of cases in Ontario since late May reached 1,501, with thirty cases reported to his office in the twenty-four hours preceding noon yesterday. There was no evidence at the moment the epidemic was waning, he said.

LATE NEWS BULLETINS

JAPANESE TROOPS VICTIMS OF CHOLERA
SHANGHAI, Sept. 15 (P)—Cholera has spread so swiftly in the Shanghai area that Japanese authorities declared today Japanese vessels returning to Japan, from Shanghai, must be put into quarantine upon docking. A Japanese naval spokesman said there were 700 cases of cholera among the Japanese troops and sixty-five deaths.

BRITISH YACHT ADRIFT IN GALE
Two Cutters Ordered to Search For Endeavour After Tow-Line Parts
BOSTON, Sept. 15 (P)—The Coast Guard tonight ordered two cutters out to search for the British yacht Endeavour I, after her convoy, the motor yacht Viki II, limped into port at Newport, R.I., and reported her tow line to the racing sloop had parted in a gale of hurricane force 200 miles out in the Atlantic.

Captain Wallace Grist, master of the Viki, telephoned to Coast Guard headquarters here, describing the Endeavour's plight.

The seas were too heavy for the Endeavour to make any headway, and he didn't see her after the "long" period because of the thick weather, he told friends in Newport.

Horse Show Provides Spectacular Events For Crowded Gallery

Onlookers Thrilled With Brilliant Performance By Clydesdales, Hunters and Arabians at Last Night's Programme at Willows Exhibition

HEARTENING applause from crowded and enthusiastic galleries greeted the long succession of very fine performances in the horse show programme at the Willows last evening. The exhibition management were delighted with the interest shown, and look forward to another capacity house tonight when, in addition to the scheduled programme, spectators will be treated to a special demonstration of trick driving with a six-horse team by James Gordon; here with the J. W. Munro team from Carstairs, Alberta.

Last night's entertainment opened as usual with the entry of the heavy draught-horse class, and closed with the laughable burlesque by one of the wonderfully-schooled Cimjotti Arabian horses, of a slightly inebriated gentleman. In between these numbers came the hunter classes, introducing some brilliant jumping and teamwork.

An unscheduled act which the gallery greatly enjoyed was a demonstration by R. C. Sibbald's three-year-old sheep dog, which herded five sheep into a pen in a few minutes' intelligent work at the signal of the shepherd, who comes from Malak, B.C.

BEAUTIFUL CLYDESDALES
The four magnificent teams of Clydesdales shown in Class 50, for best two-horse team, were close competitors for popular as well as more expert favor, but the first prize ribbon went eventually to Driver Jack Morrison with his Crystal Dairy (Vancouver) team No. 4. Second place was accorded Bert Dahl and his team, also from the Crystal Dairy, as was the winner for third place, driven by R. Thorburn, and the J. W. Munro team from Carstairs, Alta., took fourth prize with Charles Gordon driving. All teams were most skillfully manipulated despite their great weight.

The Arabian horses from the Cimjotti stables sent out a first prize in the "pure white stroller," driven by Annie Cimjotti, a pretty turnout in a white trap.

Reverse Decision Made in Vancouver

One of the most interesting classes in connection with the Jersey exhibit at the Willows Exhibition, was that of the boys' and girls' competition, which was won this year by the Langley Jersey Calf Club, with the Saanich Calf Club in second place, and the Saanich Heifer Club third. Professor H. M. King, of the University of British Columbia, spoke highly of the stock exhibited, and declared the class was particularly hard to judge. At Vancouver the Saanich Jersey Calf Club beat out the Langley Club. The picture shows the Langley boys and girls with their stock, outside the Horse Show Building.

July 4, representing different interests, mainly of a political character. Conditions were so unsettled, however, that Miss Maginnis decided she did not want to remain in Kobe, and went on to Shanghai.

While in Japan, she was struck with the vast preparations which were being made for war on a large scale, although at first the North China "incident" was looked upon as a mere formality, which would soon be liquidated. During the last of their stay, it was a different Japan, however, that she saw. Everywhere troops were on the move, and the people had a different outlook. Until recently considered a man's business solely, war for the military is beginning to realize the "incident" is growing into something of major proportions, and that women folk are necessary to promote and maintain patriotism.

CALLED TO COLORS
Men of forty-seven were putting on their uniforms before the party left Japan, and were being rushed off to China, while the younger men were being held back for more intensive training. There is a very great fear of visits to the great industrial centres of Japan by bombing planes from China or Russia. Many seem to think Russia may do just what Japan has done to China, and fly over without any declaration of hostilities. Miss Maginnis stated that in Shanghai, Miss Maginnis stayed in the French Concession and escaped the fate which overtook her leader. He stayed there because he was told it was the safest.

George H. Snow, prominent among the selling industries associated with field vegetables and hot-house products, was charged yesterday in the city police court here with having violated the Sales on Consignment Act. A week's adjournment of the cases was taken on the understanding that another adjournment would be granted on that date to Friday, September 24. The complainant in the cases is the Langley Greenhouses (1930) Ltd., and charges have to do with the consignment business between the two parties to the action.

It is alleged in the first charge that George H. Snow, on June 20, 1936, being a mercantile agent, did unlawfully sell, consign or otherwise dispose of the products of his principal, Langley Greenhouses (1930) Limited, namely, ten and one-half cases of tomatoes, to a corporation substantially owned, operated or controlled by the said George H. Snow, namely, George H. Snow Limited.

The second charge alleges that on July 31, 1936, he failed, within ten days after sale or final disposal of a consignment of ten and one-half cases of tomatoes, to separately, accurately and fully account in writing to their principal, Langley Greenhouses (1930) Limited, for and with respect to such consignment.

J. B. Clearhous, K.C., appeared for the defendants in the action, representing J. D. McPherson, Vancouver, who will be present to make the cases when they come up.

ALLEGES SELLING RULES VIOLATED

Two Charges Laid Against George H. Snow in City Police Court Here

WELCOME MANY NEW MEMBERS

Twenty-five new members were admitted into the Imperial Veterans' Association, Victoria Branch, at a general meeting held at the Y.M.C.A. last night. The membership is now well over 100, and the branch is confident that the objective of 200 members by the end of the financial year next March will be attained without difficulty.

During the meeting, a presentation was made to H. C. Knight, a member of the branch, who will leave Victoria for London on September 24.

PARTICIPATED IN IMPORTANT CONFERENCES

Rev. Dr. W. G. Wilson Returns From World Gatherings in Old Country

CHURCH PREPARING FOR GREAT MISSION

REV. DR. W. G. WILSON

After being away from the city for several months, during which he attended international religious conferences in England and Scotland, Rev. Dr. W. G. Wilson, D.D., minister of First United Church, arrived back in Victoria yesterday on the afternoon boat from Vancouver. He was accompanied by Mrs. Wilson, who also made the trip to Europe.

Dr. Wilson was a delegate to two large gatherings of church leaders, both ministers and laymen, from all parts of the world, during his stay in the Old Country. The first was a gathering of 800 religious leaders at Oxford during two and a half weeks of July, and the second a meeting of 700 at Edinburgh in August.

Dr. Wilson was one of the few delegates to the Oxford conference who proceeded to the Edinburgh meeting in August. Both gatherings were interdenominational in nature, and were arranged with a view to investigating the main problems of the Christian Church throughout the world, and determining, as far as possible, the immediate steps that should be taken in their solution. The conferences grew out of the conviction of leading churchmen in all countries that the time has come when the Church must be prepared to lead the world out of economic and social disorder.

At the Oxford conference, presided over by His Grace the Archbishop of Canterbury, the deliberations centred around the theme, "Church Life and Work." A booklet entitled "Church and State," prepared by C. H. Odium, M.A., English scholar who is the only layman to hold a doctorate of divinity degree, served as source material for a number of the conference discussions and addresses. As a follow-up of the conference, the booklet will be widely read throughout the world so that congregations and clergy alike may obtain a broader conception of the function of the Church in the modern world. The man press backed the Italian claim. Meantime in Spain, where rages the civil war, from which sprang the Mediterranean problem, insurgents prepared intensive drives, hoping for important military successes before Winter slows down operations.

Both along the Bay of Biscay, where the Government still holds the port of Gijon, and in the Madrid area, the insurgents went into action as snow in the North and bitter cold in the East warned of approaching bad weather. Gains, however, were minor.

Four persons were killed in an insurgent air raid on Valencia, temporary Spanish capital, French coastal defence guns fired at an insurgent plane that flew low over a French freighter near Port Bou.

The British steamship Hillfern was attacked by an insurgent trawler and airplane off Gijon, but escaped unharmed.

COMMANDERS MEET
LONDON, Sept. 15.—Admiral Sir Dudley Pound, commander-in-chief of British naval forces in the Mediterranean, arrived at Malta today aboard his flagship, the battleship Barham. He sailed later in the day for Oran, Algeria, where he is to meet Vice-Admiral Kéniéga, who has been placed in command of the French "anti-piracy" forces. The Barham will then proceed to Gibraltar, the base for her operations in the international patrol.

Meanwhile the other seven powers who signed the Nyon agreement—Soviet Russia, Turkey, Greece, Rumania, Yugoslavia, Egypt and Bulgaria—took the necessary measures to guard against pirate submarine attacks in their waters.

Gold lanes for evening—the last in elegance.

MEDITERRANEAN PATROL

The nine-Power decision to enforce a patrol of the Mediterranean to deal with piratical submarines is designed to protect the right of any vessels belonging to nations not engaged in war to pass on their peaceful way immune from molestation. Out of the Spanish civil war has grown a reckless disregard of the rights of other nations, probably due in part to the hysteria which that war has engendered. The vast majority of the ships which ply in the Mediterranean have no interest or concern whatever with the Spanish imbroglio. Some of them have been attacked wantonly; even the warships of neutral Powers have not escaped. The supposition has been for some time that there is one or more submarines, the nationality of which is unknown, attacking vessels indiscriminately. This is the condition that has to be stopped, and hence the Powers, with the exception of Italy, are concentrating naval forces in the Mediterranean.

There have been many incidents that have led up to the decision of the Powers to take swift action. A few weeks ago the British tanker British Corporal was attacked by Spanish aircraft. It is not only British ships that have been the victims—Italian, French and Greek vessels have suffered as well. Torpedo attacks have been made from submarines, in one the Russian steamship Timirlasef being sunk off the Algerian coast. A torpedo was fired at H.M.S. Havock off Cape San Antonio, and the tanker Woodford was sunk off the island of Columbretes. It was the attack on H.M.S. Havock which seems to have brought matters to a head and led to a better understanding of the reprisal made by Germany following the bombing of the battleship Deutschland with over 100 casualties.

The fact is that the forces fighting on either side in Spain have been guilty of reckless conduct and both will perhaps be taught a lesson if attacks persist on foreign men-of-war and merchantmen. The latter have been attacked without any effort being made to learn their identity. It almost seems as if the same was the case where warships have been the targets of torpedoes or air attacks, and yet warships' nationality can be easily identified. Now, wherever there are attacks of a wanton character, there are to be prompt counter-attacks. That is a mere matter of defence. It has been a course pursued by the British Fleet for some weeks past and before the nine-Power decision. What the latter means is that there will be an organized patrol constantly on the watch for untoward incidents. It means, too, that the danger of international repercussions is lessened, although such are always possible since Italy is not taking part in the organized patrol.

INDIVIDUAL SAVINGS

When it is remembered that life and endowment insurance are contracts by individuals to save against a rainy day, there is room for encouragement in the fact that no less than $423,964,971 worth of insurance was in force in British Columbia during 1936, according to the official report of Mr. H. G. Garrett, Superintendent of Insurance. In excess of 100,000 policies contributed to that result in a population of some 700,000 people. Commenting on the magnitude of the figures for life insurance in Canada, placed at $6,000,000,000 in policies outstanding in 1929 and but little less today, Mr. Garrett observes:

"The magnitude of the figures involved indicates what an effect cancellation or reduction in payments of principal and interest on bonds would have on the individual policyholder, because it is out of these securities and the other investments that his policy must be paid. The great problem with which the companies are confronted is to find safe investments which will yield a good return over a long period. The fall in the rate of interest is compelling a revision of the rate structure for premiums."

British Columbia life and endowment figures for last year, included in the report, disclose premiums of $12,471,138, and disbursements of $11,509,656, made up of $4,235,250 in death and other claims, and $7,274,406 in other disbursements, such as loans on policies. This is hardly the "withdrawal of capital" we heard so much about in the last Provincial election campaign. On the contrary, underwriting companies had $84,947,783 invested in British Columbia as the current year opened.

It is but natural to expect that after seven lean years there would be some reduction in the amount of insurance carried and some lapsed policies. To a gratifying extent, however, British Columbia citizens have maintained their stake in this form of savings. When it is remembered that the beneficiaries in most cases are women and children, the result is one that reflects credit on British Columbia in a definite degree.

WOODERSON'S WORLD RECORD

S. C. Wooderson's world record for the mile run, made at Mottspur Park a few weeks ago, was even better than at first reported. According to a dispatch the time given was 4 minutes 6.6 seconds, which was one-fifth of a second better than the world record set by G. Cunningham at Princeton, New Jersey, in 1934. The time should have been 4 minutes 6.4 seconds. Four timekeepers held watches and two of them showed 4 minutes 6.6 seconds and two showed 4 minutes 6.4 seconds. As is the general practice, the slower time of the run was given as official. It now transpires that one of the watches was not certified. Moreover, the rules of records demand only three timekeepers. The uncertified watch gave a time of 4 minutes 6.6 seconds and therefore could not be considered. Thus two watches gave 4 minutes 6.4 seconds, which is the accepted time.

Wooderson had been invited to the United States this year to make an attempt on a new world record for the mile. He refused because he was anxious that if such a record was within his scope it should be made in England. The performance is all the more outstanding because English tracks are slower than those of the United States and the atmosphere is heavier, which has an effect in slowing up runners. There was a special race arranged for Wooderson in which he made the record, with handicaps given those running with him as high as 140 yards, he starting from scratch. The first quarter was made in 58.6 seconds, the half in 2 minutes 2.6 seconds; the three-quarters in 3 minutes 7.2 seconds; and then Wooderson was within fifty yards of the leaders, with Powell, a former A.A.A. half-mile champion, twenty yards in front. A furlong from the tape Powell overhauled the leaders, and then Wooderson overtook him to finish first by a yard and a half. The last quarter was run in 59.4 seconds.

Wooderson has only been in the running lime-light for four years. In 1933 he won the Public Schools One Mile Challenge Cup in 4 minutes 29.8 seconds. He became Southern Counties champion in 1935 and retained that title in the following year when he covered the mile in 4 minutes 10.8 seconds. Last year he represented Great Britain in the Olympic Games in Berlin, but was handicapped by a damaged ankle. In his great record-breaking performance one of the first to congratulate him was W. G. George, who in 1880 at Little Bridge ran the mile in 4 minutes 12.4 seconds, a record that stood for twenty-nine years.

BATTLE OF THE BOYNE

There is an element of humor in an eyewitness's account of the Battle of the Boyne (1690) written on parchment by John Richardson, Protestant clergyman who lived in County Cavan. It has just been discovered, and in it the writer refers to "the English" and "the Irish," but gives the credit for the victory to the Dutch Blue Guards and the French Protestant emigre battalions. According to this parchment the battle was not a very severe engagement, because it gives the total killed as not more than 800 or 900 on the "Irish" side and 200 "English," of whom 100 were "Dutch." The eyewitness adds: "King William, who was a merciful as well as a valiant Prince, was pleased to put a stop to the pursuit and to prevent the further effusion of blood."

The London newspapers are under no delusion as to how the boxing game is conducted in the United States. On the eve of the Louis-Farr combat The London Times said: "The atmosphere of hullabaloo and heat, ranting, journalistic nonsense, and low finance may not mean so much after all when Farr steps in the ring and finds that Louis is human like himself, and conceivably no unbeatable boxer either."

President Roosevelt, of the United States, takes frequent holidays and political tours. However, in this respect he is not even a good second to Premier T. D. Pattullo, of British Columbia, who has earned the reputation of having covered more mileage during his time in power than any other politician on the continent.

FLATTERY

For fear of flattery, sincere people go on side by side with those they love, and admire, giving them, all the time, the impression of utter indifference. Parents are so afraid of exciting pride and vanity in their children by the expression of their love and approbation that a child goes sad and discouraged by their side and learns with surprise, in some chance way, that they are proud and fond of him. There are times when the open expression of a father's love would be worth more than church or school to a boy; and his father cannot utter it—will not show it.—Great Thoughts.

There is in all of us an impediment to perfect happiness, namely, weariness of the things which we possess, and a desire for the things which we have not.—MONTAIGNE.

Note and Comment

By Sandham Graves

Thunder and lightning, what a magnificent show a storm can be! Here are two huge masses of clouds opposed in their wind-borne flight, one seeking east, and the other driving west. Like bulls in some giant's paddock, they put down their heads and charge heading at one another. Lightning darts from their eyes as they glare defiance and thunder rolls sonorously across the heavens, re-echoing the shock of those massive storm-heads. Electrically, one may suppose the two clouds have formed a condenser, across which flashes the pent-up electricity of innumerable static charges, all added together. A bolt darts from the earth to a clear, straight, downward line, forking as it nears the horizon to seek the easiest path to ground. Woe to man or beast who gets in the way of that bolt. Often it strikes a hapless tree, splitting the massive timber in two from peak to base, as if, to change the image, the giant had grown tired of its struggle with no nourishment save slices of cold beef placed between splinters. Up aloft again, the giant has waved on his mighty charging bulls. They paw the heavens, draw back for a better, mightier charge, and dash together with another shattering roar. Again the flame of fire, the bolt, darts down to ground, and the reverberations of the lightning are compressed upon themselves, the clouds squeeze out their rain, and torrents fall for sixty drenching seconds. Again the giant's bulls take up their match, but now they have grown tired. They have measured their opponent and elect to call the till a draw. A few half-hearted charges, with all fire gone from their eyes, and the giant's bulls seek other sport. Shaken free from moisture, robbed of their overburden of electricity, the clouds break up into steaming whitened columns, rising like the air. The blue vault of space is clear. Just because the clouds, and there, sailing in a line, sea of space are woolly clouds, like sailboats with their billowing canvas. Strange it is that most of us go indoors, close the windows, and down the shades to wait out a passing thunderstorm; while out there in the heavens is the finest show in town!

Too bad that this is an age when people no longer believe in fairies. What a world of fun we miss! Here is Autumn, with a whole new bag of tricks waiting to charm our senses, and we refuse to see. There in the chestnut tree, for all you cannot see him, may be play with a school-marm's pointer, pointing out a row of leaves in golden, russet colors, while still the tree is freshly green. Here in the mountain ash may be another elf, conjuring three scarlet berries with a dexterous sleight of hand, or growing them startled thrushes. Over yonder in the poplars I am sure there is a gnome with scaling hooks and ladders, with paint pots and brushes, with a sprightly, puckish air, turning one whole side of a stately poplar into a shimmering flame of golden fire. A slice of sunlight imprisoned for a moment in the leaves of a poplar in the park there must be fairies, else how comes it that the placid waters shift their sear so fast? Now they reflect a countryside in fifty shades of green. Again they wipe that clear, and show us buff and orange, russet and scarlet. Does the sun have had been here yet not a tree has stirred. Tomorrow the harvest moon will rise, attended in the distance by a planet which by accident appears to point to seven o'clock, though it be midnight on that silvery disc. Midnight is the time for fairy tales, but alas we cannot see them! What it is that folds the flowers up tight at night, so that their petals will not strike them down before the sun returns? What prompts the garden folk to face the east, long hours before the dawn has come? What bathes the surface of each leaf and blade of grass, and washes all the time and dust away before another day? There are no fairies! Nonsense! Tell me rather that there is no earth, or moon, or sun; and I'll believe it. Say, if you must, you cannot see them work and play; but then take thought for mental eyes that shut-out from beauty which was made for you and everyone to see. A fairy cloud and forgo to open flower last night and forgo to open this morning. Take that for proof, the only proof that I can offer.

Wherever seaplanes and flying boats are known the name of Short is familiar. Builders of early flying craft long before the Great War, prolific producers of sea patrol aircraft in war days, and designers of the latest trans-oceanic machines being constructed for Imperial Airways and the Atlantic air passage, the famous British firm has truly profited from the present designer, comes out with the prediction that they will be able to carry 150 tons weight, and capable of carrying 150 people in comfort, will be possible and practicable. This column is delighted to be able to point to such an authority for such a statement. Long has it been considered how that flying boats will one day grow into flying liners, with separate engine-rooms, saloons, and decks much as their older brethren on the surface of the ocean. A little more time to separate the engine from the hull, to combine multiple engines into one or two heavy-duty units, to add a margin of safety and a few other details, and the flying liner will be here to stay. Twenty flying tons are crossing the Atlantic regularly now. Forty-ton aircraft are under construction. The whole trend is up. For those who are cramping in the open cockpit of a pre-war plane, or trembling on the leading edge of the earlier powered box-kites, alone in the breeze, the change will be welcome.

Tot Spends Night Asleep in Grass

BALDUR, Man., Sept. 15

Nineteen-month-old Gerald Gordon was found by searchers today sleeping in tall grass near his farm home. He toddled away last night and was lost.

Two hundred searchers joined in the hunt when the lad was reported lost and he was not located until this morning. Baldur is in South-Central Manitoba.

The Observation Car

Holidays boom business. Holidays are said to be a great help to furniture shops. After staying at nice hotels, one realizes how shabby the old furniture has grown at home. . . . A sandwich derives its name from John Montagu, fourth Earl of Sandwich. It appears the Earl played cards for twenty-four hours in a gaming house with no nourishment save slices of cold beef placed between splinters. His name was accordingly bestowed on that form of food. Captain Cook also named the Sandwich Islands after the Earl.

In a United States city there was rivalry between two large dairies. One company hired a man to drive an automobile about the city without sleep for 100 hours. The machine bore a card, "This Daredevil Drinks Our Milk." The rival company next day placed larger cards on a truck bearing the words, "Do Not Have to Be a Daredevil to Drink Our Milk." Apparently Captain Vancouver was not so fond of the Pacific Ocean. In a letter, dated the Discovery in Nootka Sound, he wrote: "Thus, you see, my friend, I am entranced in this infernal ocean."—G.B.

Glancing Over Sport

Do you know that they paid Arthur Donovan, noted football referee, the sum of $250 for handling the Joe Louis-Tommy Farr bout in Yankee Stadium? Referees in New York are paid on a sliding scale. So much for houses from $1,000 to $2,500 and so much for gates of $2,500 to $5,000 and so on.

One of the best athletic sports of the year is none other than the Baron Von Cramm, German tennis expert. His sportsmanship in the final against Don Budge will be remembered for a long time by the fans who crowded Forest Hills stands—Cliff Melton, string-bean southpaw for the Giants, is yearning to face the Yanks in the season's series. Just because the Yanks once gave him the gate. So after six straight victories, Dundee, Scottish soccer squad, suffered defeat in the First Division race. It took Clyde to set back the Dundee footballers—It appears that the Garrison ruggers will be the team to watch this year for the race for the Bannan Cup, symbolic of the senior championship. Bill Wharton has a strong list of rugers lined up for the campaign and figures that they will return the goods by winning the honors for Work Point Barracks—J.D.

Hungry?

We thought the story about the grasshoppers getting into a house with all the doors and windows locked, and then stripping the house plants of their foliage, was a record example of persistence. We had to admit that we had been beaten, however, by this one, which comes from the same area of the country. Apparently the time interval between the first and second bell is not sufficient to allow the crossing to clear itself. That, while the lights and bells suspended over the point of intersection are adequate for vehicular traffic control, they are often inaudible and invisible to the pedestrian stream. A "stop sign" or semaphore built into the street light standard on the curbstone corners would be a decided advantage. Our police force is undoubtedly understaffed in connection with traffic control for otherwise an officer could be stationed at each busy intersection to see to it that the traffic ordinances are respected, and to summons those individuals who, whether foot or wheel, who all too frequently flaunt the same. One has noticed that some of the close-shaves occur in the early night hours, when the automobile signals on Douglas Street are not in operation. Would it not minimize possibility of accident if they were kept functioning till midnight?

The Sun Stood Still

The ceaseless march of time has halted. The events of the past two years have not. The sun has stood still in the heavens these many months. We have not yet heard of that strange title the Duke of Windsor, nor has the Duchess-to-be flitted across the pages of history. Despite the fact that it is 1937, they would have us believe that Edward has not yet ascended the throne, or abdicated, nor has his brother accepted the great responsibility of ruling the Empire's millions. Does the sound remote to you, and idle? Does it halt you, and suggest that the writer is mad?

Blame a sign for it all, it stands above the Scotch thistles on E.P. Ranch at the Exhibition, and informs all and sundry who pass by those magnificent, glass-enclosed, well-fed beasts that they are owned by H.R.H. the Prince of Wales. The cattle look upon the crowds that throng their barns with patient eyes. They are possibly over-warm these hot days. They munch contentedly. Accession, abdication, accession and coronation mean nothing to them, nor does it mean much, evidently, to those who hang the sign above the blue and red ribbons, describing a man of title as owner who does not in fact exist.—B.O.

APPRECIATION

Sir,—As a visitor to Victoria I was delighted in passing through to see some lovely beautiful "Rockies" and will see they are well publicized on our return, likewise sun-shining Victoria.

MRS. CHALLICE BELL, (Auckland), Empress Hotel, Victoria, B.C., September 12, 1937.

"LOANS AND DEPOSITS"

Sir,—In Friday's issue, Mr. Walter Foster appreciatively quoted the editor of Farm and Ranch Review to the effect that bank loans do not create deposits, and stated that Mr. Peterson (the editor mentioned) doubts that R. Hon. Reginald McKenna "ever made so stupid a general statement without proper qualification."

The editor of Farm and Ranch Review was mistaken on both points. Bank loans automatically create deposits. When a loan is negotiated at a bank the amount borrowed is put to the credit of the borrower, and he then has the amount on deposit just as surely as if he had handed in a sheet of bank notes.

R. Hon. Reginald McKenna at Calgary on September 7, 1937, said concerning this matter: "It is perfectly true; precisely and completely true. It is true that a loan creates a deposit. When a loan is made, the money is put to the credit of the borrower, and he then has the amount on deposit just as surely as if he had handed in a sheet of bank notes."

Mr. Foster is under the impression that money loaned by banks is transferred from the accounts of the borrowers to the account of the bank. That is not so. The amount of time deposits held by a bank has little or no bearing on the amount of loans extended by that bank. Banks create the money or credit loaned. They make loans against the credit of the borrower, not the borrower's money.

GEORGE J. JOHNSON, Paoli, B.C., September 11, 1937.

STOP SIGNS

Sir,—Mr. A. R. Hooper's letter, re "Stop Signs," is to a point well taken. I fail to see why there should be any difference of ideas in respect to the attention paid to boulevard stop signs or traffic signals, installed for the safety and protection of vehicular and pedestrian traffic. True, the motorist having brought his vehicle to a full stop at the arterial intersection, has so far complied with the letters of the law. Having satisfied himself that the crossing is clear, it devolves upon him to cross or get into the traffic lane as expeditiously as possible, so as not to unnecessarily hamper the smooth flow along the privileged highway. Much depends upon the human equation, as in all matters appertaining to highway and sidewalk traffic.

Within the metropolitan area of audible and visible signal control, there is no room for diversity of ideas. One either obeys the traffic signal or one submits that, at the intersection, the time interval between the first and second bells is not sufficient to allow the crossing to clear itself. That, while the lights and bells suspended over the point of intersection are adequate for vehicular traffic control, they are often inaudible and invisible to the pedestrian stream.

A "stop sign" or semaphore built into the street light standard on the curbstone corners would be a decided advantage. Our police force is undoubtedly understaffed in connection with traffic control for otherwise an officer could be stationed at each busy intersection to see to it that the traffic ordinances are respected, and to summons those individuals who, whether foot or wheel, who all too frequently flaunt the same. One has noticed that some of the close-shaves occur in the early night hours, when the automobile signals on Douglas Street are not in operation. Would it not minimize possibility of accident if they were kept functioning till midnight?

There seems to be no difficult problem involved if both foot-passenger and motorist but obey the traffic signals.

WILLIAM P. NETTLESPIR, Yale Rooms, 711 Johnson Street, Victoria B.C., September 11, 1937.

IN MEMORY OF A BRAVE MAN

Sir,—There passed away not so long ago, in China, at the age of seventy-five years, a missionary called Peter Walter Robertson. This name, unknown in the halls of fame and not mentioned in the annals of large churches or organizations, is that of a man who, as Olden could have said, "My family is poor, and I am the least in my Father's house," but to whom applied the words, "The Lord is with thee, thou mighty man of valor."

When he was sixty-five years old and in a Government position in Edmonton, Alberta, his only son, Douglas, a lad of thirteen years, was taken seriously ill. Just before he died he expressed the wish that his parents go to China to do the work he had planned to do when of age. Consequently, Mr. Robertson re-

Vice-Principal of High School Is to Head Night Classes

Claude Campbell Named Supervisor by City School Board—Dr. C. W. Sanders to Act as School Doctor Until May—Purchases Made

FINAL arrangements for the reopening of Victoria City night school classes on Monday, October 4, were made at last evening's meeting of the school board, when Claude Campbell, vice-principal of the high school, was appointed supervisor, after a lengthy discussion.

Several trustees declared they were not in favor of dual positions, but were assured by George H. Deane, municipal inspector, that Mr. Campbell, by his past record as a teacher, and his attitude to night school work, was the best applicant. Members of the board also agreed that registration at night school classes should not in any case be less than ten, and that a minimum of fifteen was preferable. Fees will be charged in all courses with an idea of keeping the classes self-sustaining. Chairman W. H. Moresby, K.C., appointed a committee of three, composed of Trustees W. E. Stanceland, C. R. Bishop and John Wallace, to deal with night school matters exclusively.

DOCTOR APPOINTED

Dr. C. W. Sanders, who has had considerable experience in public health and who received his training at McGill, Edinburgh and London, was appointed school doctor to replace Dr. J. L. Murray Anderson, granted leave of absence, effective May. It is expected that Dr. Sanders, who is highly recommended, will commence his duties September 20.

The tender of $300 from Gestner & Co., of Vancouver, for an electric duplicating machine, was accepted, with the proviso that the machine be kept in good order. Paper, worth $50, is provided with the machine.

The board also authorized expenditure of $265.05 for a Chickering piano, a twelve-tube Victor radio, and an eight-tube Victor radio. The instruments, which were purchased from a local music house, are to be used in connection with the Junior High School course.

Mrs. D. L. MacLaurin requested that tenders be called for the supply and installation of eleven 16-R.L.M. dome industrial reflectors at the technical woodwork shop, Boy's Central School. The cost, Mrs. MacLaurin maintained, should not exceed $60.

A comprehensive report, which was considered in camera, was given by Trustee Moresby on his recent visit to Vancouver in connection with the convention here, September 20.

REPORT RAILWAYS MAY RAISE WAGES

NEW YORK, Sept. 15 (AP)—The World Telegram said today United States railroads were preparing to offer an increase of six cents an hour in wages to between 200,000 and 300,000 operating employees, an increase of two cents to be effective immediately, two cents additional December 1, and the final two cents March 1 next.

The operating unions are demanding a 20 per cent increase, or five cents an hour immediately. The railroads, a month or so ago, granted a five cents an hour pay rise to around 800,000 non-operating employees.

HEAD OF LOCAL BURNS CLUB DIES

George C. Grant Passes After Protracted Illness—Was in Times Business Office

A well-known member of the Times business office staff, George Chalmers Grant, honorary president of the Victoria Burns Club, which he assisted in organizing, passed away at his home, 902 Fairfield Road, on Tuesday evening, after a long illness.

A native of Inverness, Scotland, the late Mr. Grant was in his sixty-ninth year. He was connected with the Scottish Local Life Insurance Company in Scotland, and later in Leicester, England. Twenty-five years ago he came to Victoria, and in 1915 joined the Times business office staff, for a period being circulation manager.

His special affiliation was the Burns Club, of which he had been an enthusiastic member since its foundation and standing high in the esteem of the entire membership. He had been a member of the executive almost continuously since the inception of the society and was rarely absent from any of the meetings. He was also much interested in the sports activities in the Brentwood community, where he had his summer home for some years.

Besides the widow, living at the family home, there survive one son, Thomas H. Grant, living in Vancouver, Wash.; two sisters, Mrs. Regbie, Edinburgh, and Mrs. Jameson, in London, England, and two grandchildren.

The remains are reposing at the Thomson Funeral Home, pending funeral arrangements, which will be announced later.

The current acceptance of skirt lengths in Paris is a low of twelve inches and a high of fifteen inches.

DAMAGE APPEAL IS CONTINUING

Court of Appeal Will Conclude Hearing Early Today, It Is Expected

The appeal in Whitehead et al. vs. Corporation of North Vancouver is still before the Court of Appeal. It is expected that the hearing will be concluded early today. This is the case where damages to the amount of $12,000 were awarded the widow and members of the family following the drowning of Philip Whitehead in the harbor of North Vancouver, when he presumably ran off the approach to the ferry under the mistaken idea that the ferry was waiting there.

R. L. Maitland, K.C., is now before the court supporting the decision of Mr. Justice Murphy and jury from which the appeal has been taken by J. W. deB. Farris, K.C., for the operators of the ferry, the Corporation of North Vancouver. Mr. Maitland intimated to the court yesterday that he would not take long this morning, when Mr. Farris will have the opportunity of a reply.

CONCLUDES ARGUMENT

Mr. Farris concluded his argument before the court yesterday morning. He said he was not attacking the verdict on the point as to the facts arrived at. He felt the jury should have found that the deceased, Philip Whitehead, was guilty of ultimate negligence and had not taken due care. He contended that the trial judge, Mr. Justice Murphy, erred in that on the findings of the jury, he should have dismissed the action on the ground that death resulted by the ultimate negligence of the deceased.

CASE FOR DEFENCE

Mr. Maitland set out the principle that in the Court of Appeal, it was the duty of the appellant to show that there was a miscarriage of justice. The finding of the jury and the verdict must otherwise stand.

He then took occasion to present some of the evidence which he upheld the argument he had to offer in support of the conclusion reached at the trial. The argument would be offered this morning very briefly.

The preliminary list for today is as follows: Whitehead et al. vs. Corporation of North Vancouver, at bar, Rex vs. Wong Kit Chow, Rex vs. Low Kee.

SHOWER ENDS HOT WEATHER

Thunder and Lightning Follows in Wake of Warmest Day in Summer

The heat wave that struck Victoria this week came to an end yesterday morning, with a thunder and lightning storm that started in the southwest sky at 5 o'clock and lasted for half-an-hour. A shower of rain, amounting to .07 inch, which came with the storm, moistened the air and settled the dust and victorians who had found the unusual heat stifling, again enjoyed more moderate weather.

The electrical storm, a phenomenon that seldom occurs more than a few times a year in Victoria, was of unusual violence for the district, though no lightning damage was reported. Brilliant flashes of lightning followed by loud thunder-claps marked the passage of the storm.

The storm followed the hottest weather of the summer, high temperature for which was recorded by the Gonzales Hill Observatory as 88 degrees at 2 p.m. Tuesday. This was the hottest day of the year, and the hottest September day that had ever been recorded here.

Yesterday, a marked change was shown, the temperature reading only 66 degrees. Tuesday night had continued hot, with the wind in the North, coming from the hot Interior. A change in direction to the southwest has brought the end of the heat spell.

Meanwhile Vancouver residents, who had experienced a high temperature of 82 degrees Tuesday, likewise enjoyed more normal conditions. The forecast is for continued cooler weather at the Coast, while the Interior remains very warm.

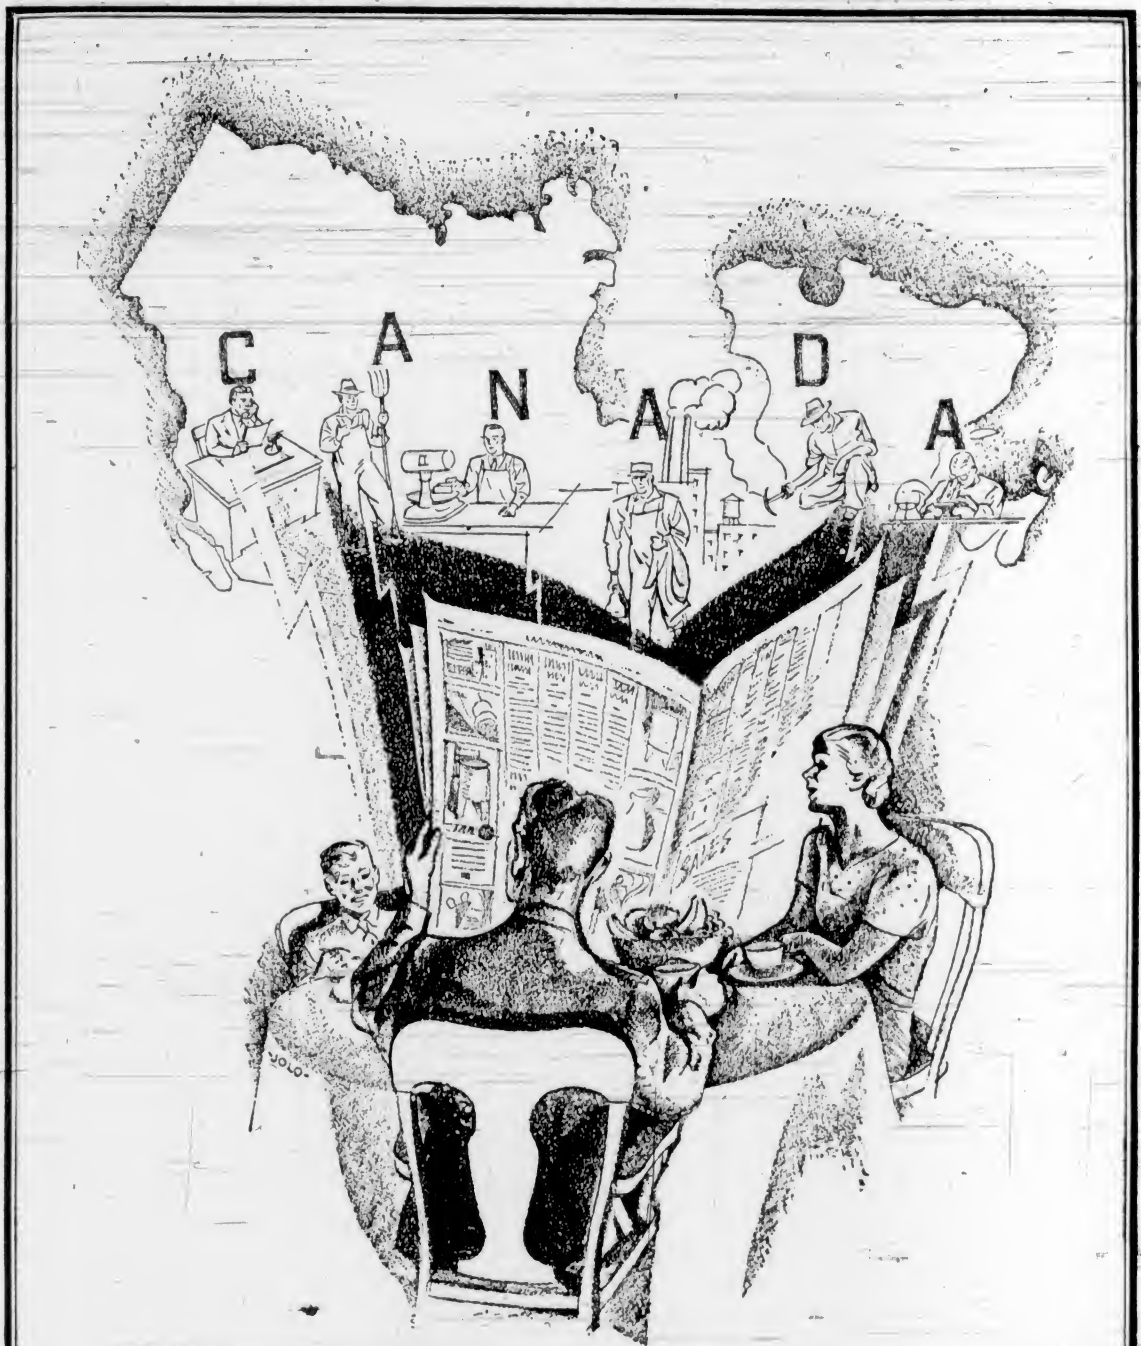

TWO-YEAR TERM MUST BE SERVED

Ernest Robinson, who, operating under a number of aliases, obtained money under false pretences, had his sentence altered to six months instead of two years, as imposed in the Saanich and the Esquimalt courts a few days ago.

At the same time the police magistrate considered that the offences committed by the accused following a bad record over a number of years warranted the punishment he had imposed and, accordingly, the accused was yesterday sentenced to serve two years. On four of the counts, the magistrate made the sentences run consecutively, which meant two years in all, with which was attached hard labor. In the other cases on which he had passed sentences beyond the maximum under the act, he altered the time

Every local newspaper is in effect an open forum in which Canadians of all classes and creeds meet on common ground. There the opinions and problems of all parts of the Dominion are reported and discussed.

All phases of local and national progress, every improvement in standards of living find the most eloquent and active proponents in the daily newspapers.

Each local newspaper is a link in the chain which binds the nation with bonds of mutual respect and understanding. It reconciles the parochial and national points of view, and not only reflects the prejudices and conditions within its own territory but also projects national problems for local consumption in their true perspective.

More than two million families from coast to coast maintain a daily contact with their fellow Canadians through the columns of their local newspapers... a condition which has been constructive and far-reaching in its results, and is a vital element in the social, political and economic development of the country.

"LINEY" FOR ENGLISH SAILOR

"Liney" for English sailor is an old nickname, though just what the connection is may seem puzzling till we are let in on the story. A long time ago conditions on shipboard were very different from what they are today. Then, sailors were fed the cheapest food fit for human consumption, and only too frequently it was unfit rather than otherwise, causing the disease known as scurvy.

An English doctor discovered that lime juice, taken internally, served as a sort of antidote, and soon it was given to all seamen on British ships as a scurvy preventative. It was on this account that the English sailors became known as "lime-juicers," which was finally shortened to "liney."

Hair Fell Out As Condition Became Worse

But This Woman Took Harris' Wondro and Recovered

In almost continual pain for four and one-half years, during which time she lost all her hair, this Vancouver woman spent hundreds of dollars on treatments before she discovered the healing properties of Harris' Wondro. Tried as a last resource, this herbal remedy soon brought her glowing health and her hair returned in such profusion that she now has to visit the barber shop every two weeks, she states in the following letter:

"Dear Sir—Several years ago, whilst attending high school, I was vaccinated for smallpox, and following this my condition became alarming. I suffered great pain for four and one-half years, and in addition lost all my hair. Hundreds of dollars were spent on me for medical treatment, trying to bring back my health and stimulate the growth of my hair. I tried Harris' Wondro as a last resource, and am thankful to say that I am now in splendid health. My hair grows so quickly and strongly from the improved condition of my blood that I have to visit the barber's shop every two weeks. I will be only too glad to personally let any disgruntled sufferer know of my case. Yours truly, Mabel Duncan, 385 Twentieth Avenue, West, Vancouver."

Every part of the system is benefited by Harris' Wondro because the healing properties it contains are assimilated in the blood and are thereby circulated throughout the body. What Harris' Wondro did for this Vancouver woman, it can do for you, too. Order a treatment of Harris' Wondro today! Harris' Wondro is for sale at all drug stores and is available also in boxed capsule form. A bottle of Harris' Laxative, a medicine for constipation, is included free with every purchase of Harris' Wondro. Ideas for Barn Dance Originate at Willows

By EVE PALMER

Pumpkins, to the youthful mind at least, mean nothing more than Thanksgiving dinner or a jack-o'-lantern in the night time when grown-ups are safely out of the way. But pumpkins may be used otherwise than in pies.

I noticed yesterday at the Willows Fair that pumpkins, those big, brilliant fellows, besides being good specimens of their kind, had also a certain decorative value. And in their right setting they could be effective.

A drawing-room, I should like to make clear at the very start, is not the right setting, nor is a formal gathering. But once in a while the younger members of the family tire of the formal and even, very occasionally, of the latest in dance steps, and are glad enough to go back just for one evening to the pot and the barn dance. And when the formalities of evening dress disappear, even a pumpkin is not out of place.

To dance a barn dance with gusto, you must have plenty of space—even if you cannot have a real barn—and candlelight and low heels and a fiddle and a piano that thumps, and for the rest just go and visit the grain and vegetable section at the fair.

DECORATIVE SHEAVES

If you have never thought about it before, you will be surprised to notice how exceedingly lovely a sheaf of grain can be; barley, stems tied neatly together with yellow ribbon and the ears above flaring out in a halo, falling into a more graceful line, a bunch of hay milled like dull green lilac.

and the full rich color of wheat. Those sheaves will give you ideas to plan your room. It must be full of shadows with the huddle at one end and the grain arranged cunningly so that the shades come and go over the sheaves, and one of those round, burnished pumpkins in a pool of light. Choose a good plump one and set it off with those pretty little squash, striped yellow and green. And remember even a string of onions hanging from the roof has its symmetry. Visit the vegetables and you will see for yourself.

THE MENU

Your menu should present no difficulties. If you look around, you will see corn, full and ripe and luscious, and blackberries and apples—and if your grandmother has lost the recipe for apple wine, you will just have to put up with cider. Hostesses of the Fall, go and plot with the vegetables and grain—and if your barn dance is not a success, do not blame the pumpkins.

Weddings

FRASER-BARKER

The marriage took place at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, 533 Comford Street, Esquimalt, when Barbara Jean, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Barker, became the bride of Mr. Ralph C. Fraser, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Fraser, Mission City, B.C. Rev. F. W. Anderson officiating.

Giadoli, sweet peas and asters were used in the decoration of the drawing-room and during the ceremony the bride and groom stood beneath a large pink-and-white wedding bell and streamers.

The bride wore a jacket frock of navy blue and white triple sheer and a wide-brimmed navy stitched silk hat trimmed with a white gardenia, navy accessories, and a corsage bouquet of pink carnations. Mr. Robert Meneau was best man.

A buffet luncheon was served after the service from a table centered with the bride's cake, which had been made and decorated by Mrs. William Petrie, flanked by vases of pink carnations and tall pink tapers. Mrs. Barker was smartly gowned in a navy blue silk crepe, and a matching hat and wore a corsage bouquet of white carnations.

After a honeymoon in California, Mr. and Mrs. Fraser will return in three weeks and make their home in Victoria. The couple were recipients of many useful and lovely gifts.

PETERS-THROUP

The marriage was quietly solemnized on Saturday, September 11, at 7 o'clock in the Bishop's Palace, of Miss Mary Ann Agnes Throup, only daughter of Mr. Emmanuel Throup, Sooke, and Mr. George Edward Peters, Oyster Point. Rev. Father Geukers performed the ceremony.

The bride, who entered the room on the arm of her aunt, Mrs. J. P. Noury, was most becomingly attired in a dark yellow swaggar suit with brown and white accessories, with which was worn a corsage bouquet of orange blossoms, white carnations and fern. The bride was attended by Miss Kathleen Conroy and Miss Ellen Peters, who were attired in suits of Royal blue with white accessories. They wore corsage bouquets of pink sweet peas and fern. The groom was attended by his brother, Mr. Herbert Peters.

After the ceremony supper was served at a popular tearoom in Victoria. The tea table was beautifully decorated with white roses and fern, and centered with a handsome wedding cake. Those present were Mrs. Noury, Mr. and Mrs. George Throup, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Peters,

GORDON HEAD LOSES FRIEND

Mrs. Peter McNaughton After Twenty-Three Years Here
Off for Trip

Victoria lost yesterday, for an extended period, Mrs. Peter McNaughton, an old and highly-esteemed resident of the Gordon Head district, who has taken a prominent part in the life of that community as well as playing a leading role in Victoria women's club activities ever since she came here twenty-three years ago.

Mrs. McNaughton expects to be away for at least two years. She will first visit friends in Vancouver, then, in turn, her two sons, Ronald R. McNaughton, at Trail, and H. A. McNaughton, Los Angeles. Next year she will leave for Havana, Cuba, to visit her daughter, Mrs. H. Chisholm, who, with her husband and two young children, left recently after spending the summer here.

A native of Glenora, Ontario, Mrs. McNaughton belongs to a family which worshipped at the church of which Dr. Gordon's (Ralph Connor) father was pastor. With her parents she was taken as a girl to Nevada, but left there in 1868 to join a brother, W. A. McNaughton, in Vancouver, just after the fire. It was there she met Peter McNaughton, whom she married two and a half years later.

A PIONEER

Although her family and household responsibilities were not light, she took a leading part in organizing and promoting all manner of activities for the betterment of the then young community of Vancouver. Always interested in education, she attended the first school teachers' convention here in 1896, an outstanding personality of that meeting being the late Agnes Deane Cameron. She was the second woman school trustee in Vancouver, serving about three years on the board just before she came to Victoria in 1914.

She was also a charter member of the Vancouver General Hospital board of governors, of the Vancouver

HOW OFTEN CAN YOU KISS AND MAKE UP?

NEW husbands can understand why a wife should turn from a pleasant complexion into a show for one whole week in every month. You can say "I'm sorry" and kiss and make up earlier before marriage than after. If you're wise and if you want to hold your husband, you won't be a three-quarter wife.

For three generations our women have told another how to get "red through" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps Nature keep up the system, thus insuring the disappearance from the functional disorders which women must endure in the three circles of life: 1. Turning from girlhood to womanhood, 2. Preparing for motherhood, 3. Approaching "middle age."

Don't be a three-quarter wife. Buy LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND and be "red through."

Variety in Two-Piece for School

Here's a smart little quick change two-piece costume. The jacket blouse is wine-red velvet, the skirt wine, blue and green wool plaid. It will make your school wardrobe seem more extensive than it really is. The separate plaid wool skirt affords opportunity to wear lovely sweaters and smart "tuck-in" shirt type blouses of cotton, broadcloth or flannel. The wine-red blouse serves as a jacket over a black or a rayon-challis print dress. Use the same pattern for the print dress and again for separate skirts and blouses. Style No. 2008 is designed for sizes 11, 13, 15, 17 and 19 years. Size 13 requires 1-3/4 yards of 39-inch material for blouse with 1-7/8 yards of 39-inch material for skirt.

The Fall and Winter Fashion Book is filled with lovely designs for everyday wear, which are easy and inexpensive to make.

POWER OF IMAGINATION
A doctor treating an old woman for typhoid fever, took her temperature on each visit by putting a thermometer under her tongue. One day when she was nearly well the doctor did not take her temperature. He had scarcely got one hundred yards from the house when her son called him back.

"Mother is worse," said the young man. "Come back at once!"

The doctor returned. As he went into the sick room the old woman looked up at him reproachfully.

"Doctor," she said, "why didn't you give me the tube under my tongue today? That always did me more good than all the rest of your trash!"

MURDERS MAN FOR LOVE OF HIS DOG

 Lionel Barrymore in Strange Role
In "The Voice of Bugle Ann"
At Oak Bay Theatre

 Can a man be so loyal to a dog as to commit murder for it?

 This strange trick in human psychology is the crux of one of the most amazing human documents ever to come to the screen, "The Voice of Bugle Ann," with Lionel Barrymore in the principal role, coming tonight to the Oak Bay Theatre.

 Based on MacKinlay Kantor's novel, which in turn was based on an actual court case in Missouri, it tells the story of a veteran Missouri fox hunter and his favorite dog, to avenge which he kills a man and goes to prison.

CLEVER COMEDY IS AT COLUMBIA

 Marx Brothers Headline Side-Splitting Feature Entitled "A Night at the Opera"

 If there is any truth to the saying that "a laugh a day keeps the doctor away," the medical staff will be out of business by the riotous Marx Brothers' comedy, "A Night at the Opera," on the screen of the Columbia Theatre this week.

 By actual stop-watch timing there are seventy minutes of solid laughs in the latest hit of the merry madcaps.

MARX BROTHERS IN ATLAS FILM

 "A Day at the Races" Is Latest Laugh-Fest of Famous Trio
To Show Here

 Marxmania at its gayest is seen in "A Day at the Races," which opens today at the Atlas Theatre as the newest laugh extravaganza of that trio of uninhibited and inimitable laugh-makers, the three Marx brothers.

 While the picture is titled "A Day at the Races," it might just as appropriately have been called "A Day in a Sanatorium," for the plot switches between the two locales at breakneck pace, and it would be difficult to say which is funnier—the antics of the Marxes in the sanatorium or their uproarious conduct at the race track.

CAPITOL Daffiest of the daffiest—high prisms of madness—masters of the art of infectious insanity—the Four Yacht Club Boys, radio comics and songwriters, appear in Jack Benny's filmmusical, "Artists and Models," which shows for the last times today at the Capitol Theatre.

the dope peddlers in "The Place That Kicks," the sensational dope film which is now showing at the cast headed by Noel Madison, and

NEED FOR CARE IN B.C. FORESTS

 Fire Season Nearing End
With Second Peak Expected Shortly

 Provincial fire fighters are nearing the end of the long forest fire season, with, however, the most dangerous period yet to come. Total fire occurrences reported up to this week included 1,009 outbreaks, of which relatively few were of serious proportions—compared with 1,467 fires in a like period last year. For the most part the bush is dangerously dry, requiring continued care by the public for the next few weeks.

 Thirty-one spot-fires occurred during the week, with eleven burning from the week previous and a total of thirty-four fires were put out in the same time. Fires reported still burning, though under control, numbered eight.

NEW PEAK AHEAD
Though officials of the Forest Branch are loathe to say so, the second peak in fire occurrences is expected shortly, with the advent of the Fall hunting season. Fire occurrences maps for British Columbia forests show two peaks, one in July and the other in September.
The September peak has yet to come.

 Brief rain after a thunderstorm yesterday was believed to have helped a lot, though fire damage from lightning may also have been caused at one or two points.

"THAT'S TRUE"
A celebrated lion tamer was once approached by an elderly lady at the close of an exciting performance among his snarling charges. "What a very trying occupation you have,"
she remarked.

 "That's true," said the tamer.
"After a few years of this game in draughty cages almost every tamer
I know has lumbago."
CHAPTER XXXV
"My name," said the small, neatly dressed man, glancing at Angus, "is Turner Autmann. May I ask who you are and why I am being received in this manner?"

 The police officer said, "He was poking around at the back door, Mr.
Garbrook. Maybe he's OK. I dunno. I got orders to pick up anybody I see hanging around that don't belong here."
 "Strangers are likely to find it a bit confusing here—a house that sets with its back to the street," the indignant suspect said. "I went to the first door I saw. It was on the ground level. No one came to the door, and I went to the steps at the far corner and—was promptly attacked from the rear." The small man dismissed the entire group with an upward jerk of the head. "Will someone be kind enough to tell Miss Pauline Markey a representative of the War Department would like to see her?"

 Angus and the officer seemed to find this amusing, but Polly said, genuinely regretful, "I'm awfully sorry. If you had only asked for me in the first place."
 She introduced herself and Angus.
She said, "You must try to understand the situation here. As far as I know, the police have made no progress whatever in their hunt for Mr. Fordell's murderer, and they're likely to be a little too eager. . . .
Come on, Mr. Autmann. You'll excuse us, Angus? . . . It's quite all right, officer."
 She led the way to the study, leaving Angus and the officer on the porch—but she had not forgotten Fordell's unexpected question, when they had first come to the porch.
"Your name wouldn't be Cleaves, by any chance?"
 And she knew now what he had meant when he said, "But the first angle I'm going after is not in this house." Like Jerry, Angus was playing with the notion that Evelyn Fordell's divorced husband may have had something to do with the brutal slaying of Norris Fordell.
 As nearly as Polly could determine, Autmann was a sort of under executive in the clerical section of the War Department. He had charge, he explained, of the files and would ultimately direct the distribution and filing of Fordell's data.
 "I suppose there's really no point
in my going ahead with the work here," Polly told him when they were looking over the contents of several drawers of the steel filing cabinets.
"Mr. Fordell's idea was, of course, to simplify the work when the materials were sent to Washington, but—"
 "Precisely," Autmann said, cryptically. "No doing a large amount of this will be discarded. Letters like this, for example. If you do nothing else, but weed out the useless material, your efforts would be well spent."
 Autmann remained almost two hours. When he was leaving, he said, "You will receive your first cheque at the end of next week, Miss Markey, and every two weeks thereafter until the task is completed. I will send you an expense memorandum to fill out and a cheque for your expenses will be forwarded on the first of the month."
 Polly followed him to the door.
She said as he held out his hand, "If anything should happen to me—what will become of the files?"
"He looked at her intently. "My dear young lady, you're not expecting anything to happen to you—not seriously?"
 Her shoulders lifted. "One never knows," she said, smiling.
"Nothing is going to happen to you," he declared. "You are doing a valuable service for the War Department and I'm sure if you speak to the colonel in charge of the fort here you will have the entire local military at your disposal." Polly's smile widened. "I'll remember that," she told him.
When she went upstairs she fastened the curtains back, took a last look at "Tad" and snuggled off to sleep. When she turned towards the doorway she saw Julian—he was standing with his back to the corridor door. The door was closed, and in the instant before she spoke she heard the key turned in the lock.
 Polly took a step forward, a step that brought her out of the shadow of the darkened room behind her.
She said, unafraid, "What do you want, Julian?"
 His eyes avoided hers and he twisted uneasily. Then he brought his hands from behind him and she saw that the key was not in them.
"I want to talk to you, Polly. I've got to—now. We started out wrong.
I want you to know how I feel about you. I like you, Polly. I like you better than you know." He blurted this out, hurriedly, nervously, as if he expected her to order him out before he could unburden his mind.
 "I suppose there's really no point
in my going ahead with the work
here," Polly told him when they were looking over the contents of several drawers of the steel filing cabinets.
"Mr. Fordell's idea was, of course, to

Chicago Defeats Bees Behind Fine Hurling of Davis

Cubs Still Remain Two and a Half Games Behind Giants—New York Beats Pirates, 7-2—Yankees and Indians Divide Double-Header—Feller Driven to Showers in Opener

NATIONAL LEAGUE

CHICAGO, Sept. 15 (AP).—The Cubs pulled themselves together today behind a smart six-hit pitching performance by Curt Davis, and bounced back from their double-header defeat of yesterday to whip the Boston Bees, 5-2, and remain two-and-one-half games behind the New York Giants in the National League pennant race.

Although they made only seven hits off another of Bill McKenney's aged rookies, thirty-one-year-old Milburn Shoffner, the Cubs bunched three of them with a sacrifice, an intentional pass and an error in the eighth for three runs to break a two-hit tie, and give Davis his seventh victory of the season.

Frank Demaree led the attack on the Boston southpaw, driving out his seventeenth home run of the season and checking in with a single that sent in the tie-breaking run in the eighth. R. H. E. Boston 001 000 010-2 6 2 Chicago 000 101 038-5 7 0 Batteries—Shoffner and Mueller; Davis and Hartnett.

Giants Trim Pirates PITTSBURGH, Sept. 15 (AP).—Exploding a timely ten-hit attack at the expense of three enemy pitchers, the New York Giants today won a 7-2 victory over the Pirates today and held their two-and-one-half-game margin in the tight National League race.

Given a steady nine-hit pitching effort by Hal Schumacher, who won his twelfth victory of the season, the Giants maintained their loop lead despite the second-place Cubs' victory over the Boston Bees.

The New Yorkers set up in the ball game in the first two innings with a total of five runs and were never threatened thereafter.

Joe Moore, Mel Ott and Jimmy Rippel, with two hits apiece, set the pace for the Giant attack. Rippel driving in two of the runs. Wildness on the part of Young Russ Bauers, the Pirate starter, and three Pirate errors helped the Giants along to an easy victory. R. H. E. New York 230 020 000-7 10 0 Pittsburgh 000 001 010-2 9 3 Batteries—Schumacher and Danning; Bauers, Weaver, Bowman and Todd.

Divide Twin Bill CINCINNATI, Sept. 15 (AP).—The Brooklyn Dodgers split a double-header with the Reds today, but despite the lull in the victory, they were mathematically eliminated from the National League pennant.

Gene Schott pitched a six-hit shutout to give the Reds a 6-0 victory in the opener. Roy Henshaw hurled a steady game, while his Dodger mates landed on a trio of rookies for an 8-5 win in the tie-breaker.

Brooklyn's standing after today's twin bill left them with sixty victories against seventy-five defeats, with nineteen games to play. First game: R. H. E. Brooklyn 000 000 000-0 6 2 Cincinnati 100 002 000-11 11 1 Batteries—Hamlin, Cantwell, Lindsey and Phelps; Schott and Lombardi.

Second game: R. H. E. Brooklyn 240 001 001-8 13 2 Cincinnati 100 010 102-5 13 3 Batteries—Henshaw and Phelps; Gehman, Barrett, Moody and Brittain.

Ends in Deadlock ST. LOUIS, Sept. 15 (AP).—After thirteen innings of play, the game between the Cardinals and Phillies was called because of darkness, with the score tied at six-all. R. H. E. Philadelphia 300 002 100 000-6 12 0 St. Louis 300 000 100 000-6 12 4 Batteries—Jorgens, Burkart, Passau and Grace; Ryba, Blake, Simmel and Ogdowski.

AMERICAN LEAGUE NEW YORK, Sept. 15 (AP).—Although they clubbed Rob Feller to the showers in one game, and were given four-hit pitching by Monte Pearson in the other, the Yankees managed only a split in a double-header with the Cleveland Indians today.

Feller fanned eight and pitched shutout ball for seven innings in the opener, only to have the score tied with a four-run Yankee rally that sent him to the showers in the eighth. Mel Harder pitched hitless ball the rest of the day, and the Indians won out in the tenth inning, 5-4, on Moose Solters' triple and Bud News Hale's fly.

In the nighttime the Yankees tagged Danny Galehouse for a 3-1 victory. First game: R. H. E. Cleveland 000 003 100 1-3 9 0 New York 000 000 040 0-4 9 9 Batteries—Feller, Harder and Puckett; Vance, Malone and Dickey; Chynn.

Second game: R. H. E. Cleveland 000 000 010 1-4 2 New York 010 000 208-3 7 1

Runner Is Out at Plate But Still Scores

Bill Brubaker, third baseman of Pittsburgh Pirates, slides home with a run in the fifth inning, which brought a protest from Manager Charlie Grimm, of the Chicago Cubs. Umpire Magerkurth calls the runner out at catcher Harnett catches the ball; but Umpire Ballanfant at first, just a moment before, had called Ed Brandt out for running out of line between first and second, thus making Brubaker safe at home. In case you are wondering how to figure this out, we will explain. At the plate, but Brandt had been called out prior to the play, so

BOXING BODY NAMES HOGAN AS PRESIDENT

Montreal Man Elected Head of National Association At Annual Meeting

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va., Sept. 15 (AP).—The National Boxing Association today elected Frank Hogan, of Montreal, as president, selected Montreal as the 1938 convention city and derided the long-time contracts which Promoter Mike Jacobs, of New York, makes with fighters.

Of these contracts, the N.B.A. said: "We've put the matter squarely up to New York."

The N.B.A., with twenty-six state commissions represented, met in New York, fused for an hour over a resolution condemning Jacobs, of New York's Madison Square Garden, for placing fighters under contract as long as five years.

As approved, the resolution reads: "The association looks upon these contracts as a detriment and evil to boxing. It is preventing the boxers from showing their wares throughout the world without Jacobs getting a cut on the performance."

The New York commission was asked to co-operate in requiring that contracts be limited to specific fights. Retiring President Joseph P. Maloney then said: "We've put the matter squarely up to New York."

Hogan succeeds Maloney as president. Mike Jacobs, of New York, makes with fighters.

"So even today they holler, eh?" he asked. "Well, what they say or do doesn't mean a thing to me. But they have no reason to holler. The only fighter I have under a five-year contract is Joe Louis and that at his request. Braddock's contract is for one year. The others are signed for a return fight and that's business. Why, Madison Square Garden has been doing that for twenty years."

"Suppose I'm going to let a fighter meet Louis for instance, and then not let him up for his first title defense in case he wins? Not your uncle, Michael."

PAYS $306.50 WHEN DUKE POHL, DICKEY BOY GET IN MONEY

Former Horse Wins Last Race on Day's Programme and Returns $78.95 and Dickey Boy Pays $14.50—Five Lucky Bettors Cash In—Leeward Captures Feature Event

Duke Pohl and Dickey Boy, sons of Hand Grenade, made the final gallop of yesterday's racing at the Willows track something of a family affair by finishing first and second, respectively. But that was only the beginning. Duke Pohl, overlooked by the punters, returned $78.95 for a straight bet, and Dickey Boy returned $14.50 for a place ticket. Together, the two thoroughbreds rewarded five punters $306.50 each for their selection in the one-two betting.

The returns were the biggest of the meeting and came at a time when the largest crowd since pre-depression days was on hand at the popular look track.

Ridden by Jockey Baxter, who brought Spazz down in front on Tuesday and returned $61.90, Duke Pohl picked up Clear Star, the heavily-backed favorite, soon after the start and after taking a good lead lasted long enough to lead the bandits to the wire. Dickey Boy, with Haller aboard, moved up on the back stretch and took the place slot with a neck decision over Oh Dave. The latter ran evenly all the way.

LEEWARD WINS FEATURE Leeward, well-ridden by Young, captured the sixth event and the feature race of the attractive programme, with a length decision over Cisco Kid. Made the choice by the punters, the winners took the lead after the five-eighths, and were pressed by Cisco Kid, was never really in danger. Silva was third.

Four players had their innings in the majority of the events as public choice moved came to the wire and many of the large crowd of punters were able to cash in on their selections. The closest finish of the day was in the initial gallop where Bell Rap closed with a head decision over Lomar. Again in the fifth race the crowd was given a real thrill when Terry Ted gained a neck verdict over Doctor Larry.

Bobbie Doyle, second choice mount, took the lion's share of the purse in the second race at six furlongs and thirty yards. Chirde was second and Trials third. Time Enough was a badly beaten favorite and trailed the field of eight horses.

Herb Fullerton's Jungle Hen came to the wire in front in the third gallop at six furlongs and thirty yards. Ethel Star followed the winner to the wire and The Most took the show money.

In the fifth race the fans witnessed a dead heat for the show position, when Ezzell and Victor of War came home together. J. Baxter and C. Simpson led the hardbreds for the day with two wins apiece. L. Whitacre, A. Haller and R. Young shared the other winning mounts.

Frank Wilbourne, with four winners, is the leading jockey at present, but he is closely pressed by Baxter, Barnett and C. Simpson, all of whom have rode three winners. The rest of the boys are well bunched. Emil Spoor, leading hard-bred at Vancouver, has yet to ride a winner. He has however piloted eight thoroughbreds home in the place slot.

There will be another good programme today, with the first post time at 1:45 o'clock.

Budge and Mako Lose to Germans

CHICAGO, Sept. 15 (AP).—Baron Gottfried von Cramm and Helner Henkel proved their victory over Don Budge and Gene Mako for the United States doubles championship was no fluke.

The German team crushed the United States Davis Cup combination in four sets, 6-7, 2-6, 7-5 and 7-5, in the feature match of an international tennis exhibition series at Onwenta Country Club.

Ernest Whistler of the United States, Whitman Cup team, and Jadwiga Jedziewska, Polish star, teamed to defeat Anita Lizana Chile, recently crowned United States women's title, and Marie Louise Horn, Germany, in the featured women's match.

Mako won over Charles M. Jones, of England, in singles, 6-4, 6-4. Wayne Stain defeated the young English star Charles Hare in the second singles exhibition, 6-1, 6-2.

What Today Means

"VIRGO"

If September 16 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m., from 3 to 5 p.m., and from 8 to 10 p.m. The danger periods are from 9 to 11 a.m., from 5 to 7 p.m., and from 10 p.m. until midnight.

You may have to discuss a disagreeable subject today, and it will be well to remember that a sugar-coated pill is generally just as efficacious, and taken with much more grace, than an obnoxiously bitter one. Unbridled tempers will be responsible for many things being said today which would be much better left unsaid. Gluttony will cause many an ache and pain, for conditions are not conducive for stomachs to stand abuse. It is advisable to place some restraint this day on any craving that might be felt, especially if it requires a foolish expenditure of money—to gratify a married and engaged couple, and those about to become affianced, should guard against giving any indication of being bored, if they wish to escape the accusation of being indifferent.

If a woman and September 16 is your birthday, you may give too much thought to your physical condition or your personal appearance. Do not let your imagination run wild, for it might lead you to believe many things that are not true. See that your environment is conducive to a feeling of cheerfulness because your surroundings are likely to affect your spirit. Your home life will have a decided bearing on your ultimate results, both in a domestic and a commercial way. It must be harmonious for you to work out your problems satisfactorily. It will not pay you to sacrifice yourself simply to indulge someone else's selfish desire. You most likely have the qualifications required to be a successful artist, interior decorator, professional hostess, dancer, singer, broker, author, or musician. You probably will be very fortunate in your selection of a mate, and a happy married life ought to make you a contented woman.

The child born on September 16 is usually instinctively neat and methodical. This youngster is apt to have very strong likes and dislikes, particularly regarding food. With educational advantages, after passing through the puppy-love period, parents of children born on this date have "simple" reasons for being very proud of them.

If a man and September 16 is your natal day, if you do not know risqué fancies to blind you to the common sense realities of a work-a-day world, your chances of making a success are unlimited. As a clergyman, writer, engineer, naturalist, agriculturist, architect, lawyer, politician or doctor, opportunities should come knocking at your door.

MARINE, RAIL and AIR

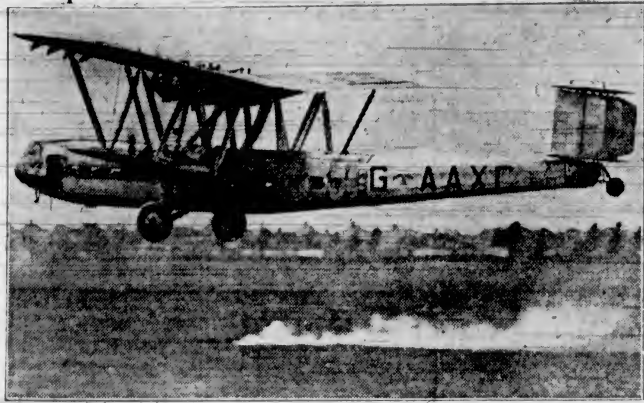

MEMENTO OF EXPERIENCE

Tourist From Washington
Last to Check Out of Shanghai Hotel

Last guest to leave the Palace Hotel on the morning following the partial wrecking of the hotel by aerial bombs last month, Mrs. Tena Hart, who arrived here yesterday on the Ss. President McKinley, has an interesting memento of her short but thrilling sojourn in Shanghai. It is a receipted bill for the days she stayed at the Palace.

Mrs. Hart was on a summer tour through the Orient, and was in Shanghai when the trouble began there. She wouldn't agree that the horrors of what had happened, and

Completes One Million Miles of Flight

The Imperial Airways liner Hercules, Taking Off From Croydon With a Distinguished Party Aboard to Celebrate the Completion of Her Million Miles in Service. This Constitutes a World Record for Commercial Aircraft.

was continuing to happen in the vicinity of Shanghai, should be covered up as too terrible to talk about. The facts of those frightful days should be widely broadcast, she insisted, for it is only through publicity that repetitions of such evil things can be averted.

Mrs. Hart reached Shanghai aboard the Ss. Empress of Asia on August 6. She was in the Palace Hotel lobby when the shell tore through the roof and demolished two complete floors of the building, killing a number of guests; while she saw the havoc wrought by the second bomb, which exploded directly outside of the hotel in the street shortly after the first one struck.

Her word picture of the vicinity of the hotel, where the street was crowded with refugees pouring into the city from the native portions of Shanghai, was a harrowing one, to say the least. Mrs. Hart saw the human debris, torn in many instances into such small fragments that she had to be used for picking them up, while blood was everywhere, actually flowing in little rivulets along the gutters. On Sunday, hundreds of bodies were laid out in the Shanghai race track grounds for identification, an impossibility in a great many cases, so terribly were they mangled.

"I managed to reach some friends in another section of the city later that day, although I had to stay at the Palace Hotel Saturday night, because there was no way of communicating with them, the telephone exchange being out of business. While staying with those friends, there was little feeling of security, after what I'd witnessed. There was always the fear of sudden death. Bombs were falling not far away, and you could hear the screams of soldiers in the hand-to-hand fighting going on nearby.

Getting out of Shanghai had its terrifying moments, too. Trying to reach the Dollar Line offices to learn when we could leave the city, we had to move from shelter to shelter while the bombing planes were dropping their heavy missiles. We at length got word we could get to Manila aboard the Ss. President Hoover. The journey down the river was full of excitement, for heavy firing was continuous from both armies.

Mrs. Hart is the proprietor of the Fir Ridge Quernsey Farm, Roy, Washington, and she was anxious to know if any of her stock was on exhibition at the Willows Fair, she stated she had been a consistent exhibitor at Victoria exhibitions for a number of years.

Cole stated, "that on the day the Palace Hotel was bombed, I held the winning number in the Palace Cafe Bar Sweep, amounting to $100; and although I won, I still lost, for I was unable to collect."

Mr. Cole managed to leave Shanghai aboard a Japanese express liner, one of several which are running regularly between Shanghai and Nagasaki.

REFUGEES ON BOARD LINER

President McKinley Brought Large Passenger List—
Many From Shanghai

Bringing in a number of passengers who were in Shanghai when the bombings of early August took place, as well as many travelers from various Oriental ports, the American Mail Line Ss. President McKinley, Captain Claude E. Bryant, U.S.N.R., commander, reached Rutherford Piers at 8 o'clock yesterday morning.

The McKinley was one of the ships which evacuated Shanghai refugees while on the other side, landing some at Hongkong, but taking a greater number to Manila. The refugees were taken aboard the liner some eighteen miles from Shanghai, from where the ship's personnel could see something of what was going on, like the aerial craft in action and the bursting of shells over the city.

LEAVE LINER HERE

A number of passengers left the liner here, including Mrs. Gertrude A. Bowen and Miss Joyce Ever, who will visit in Vancouver, from Hongkong; J. C. Houle, professor of music from Quebec, returning from a pleasure tour of the Orient; W. I. McCarthy, marine engineer, former resident of Victoria, who will visit here, en route to Norfolk, where he will board a ship belonging to Wheelock & Company, Shanghai, and Clare D. Penney, sales representative for H. R. McMillan Export Company, Vancouver, returning from Japan.

Among the Shanghai refugees arriving were Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Collins, the former being clerk of the United States Court at Shanghai, going to Seattle; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Crow, well-known authority on Chinese affairs, bound for New York; E. C. Harrison, who had lived in Shanghai for four years, Mrs. A. Laidlaw, wife of American Mail Line official, and her son; Mrs. P. M. Anderson and daughters, going to Seattle; Mrs. T. B. Culver, going to Pennsylvania; Louis F. Erbe, business man; Mrs. Maude Erbe and children, returning to former home in Oregon; W. A. Stora, missionary and refugee; Mrs. Tena Hart, who was touring the Orient; Mrs. H. D. MacClure and family, missionary going home to New York; Miss A. M. Maginnis, instructor, Art Museum, Boston; who was on an educational tour; and Miss M. E. Tuck, teacher from Massachusetts, who was in Shanghai and got away on a Japanese hospital ship.

Also aboard
Included among other interesting passengers on the McKinley were J. W. Welby, aeronautical engineer with the Curtis Wright Company; Mrs. Ted Shrader and son, the former being a theatrical artist, featured in dance team with husband at some of the exclusive night clubs in the Orient; Mrs. Pauline Rice, school teacher, returning from a summer tour of China and Japan; Mr. and Mrs. J. Lorenzo Oja, the former being a well-known Hal-Alai player, proceeding to his home in Mexico; Rt. Rev. A. A. Gilman, Bishop with the American Church Mission at Wuchang, on leave; John Hanson-Love, lecturer in the geographical department of the University of London, homeward bound; and Miss Laura Bannan, artist, illustrator and painter, returning to her home in Chicago, after a pleasure tour of the Orient.

The McKinley proceeded to Seattle at noon, following various discussions between dock men, ship's officers and labor delegates from the liner, in which prolonged telephone talks with Seattle were featured. The discussions failed to get anywhere, and the 800 odd measurement tons of cargo aboard the ship for discharge there. The crew of the ship refused to furnish steams to the Victoria longshoremen who handled the mooring lines and the gangway.

American Mail Line Ship Will Definitely Call at Victoria Today

Definite advice received here last evening by W. M. Allan, local agent of the American Mail Line, stated that the Ss. President Jefferson, which has been held at her Seattle dock since Monday, owing to the demands of union members of the crew for a bonus for traversing the Far East war zone, will leave the Puget Sound city for Victoria at 10 a.m. this morning, which should bring the liner alongside Rutherford Piers about 2 p.m.

The big ship will be here only a very short while, stopping only long enough to take on mails. How the trouble was adjusted in Seattle was not stated.

AT SAN FRANCISCO
In a telegram received at his home here, Captain George Newell, of the Island Tug & Barge Company, who shipped aboard the schooner yacht Invader here, last week, stated that the vessel arrived at San Francisco Tuesday night.

Soviet Flyer Meets Natives
Who Heard Plane About
August 15

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, Sept. 15 (P).—Search for six missing trans-polar flyers swung southward today to the territory lying between the Endicott Range in Northern Alaska and the Arctic coast.

Confirmation of statements that natives heard what might have been the missing plane's motors on Friday, August 13, was obtained on a seven-hour flight yesterday by A. Vartanian, Soviet representative.

Vartanian's plane went north as far as the 69th parallel about 100 miles south of Barter Island. On returning, Vartanian said: "We saw no indications of the flyers, but confirmed statements told Canadian Pilot Bob Randall, Sir Hubert Wilkins and others that natives heard a plane in the area about August 13."

At Barrow, a Russian airplane piloted by Alexei Gracianski and bearing five other men, arrived from Well, Siberia, yesterday to join the search.

DENIED REPORTS
ALBUQUERQUE, N.M., Sept. 15 (P).—Commander Lincoln Ellsworth, veteran explorer, here today on a

"pleasure trip," denied reports he would join the Arctic search for the lost Russian aviators.

For newsmen he had only the announcement: "I am not going to Alaska. I haven't heard of any proposed search for the Russian flyers."

PREPARED TO CO-OPERATE

Australia Willing to Assist In Constructing Two Modern Liners

CANBERRA, Sept. 15 (P).—Prime Minister Joseph Lyons told the House of Representatives today that Australia was prepared to co-operate with Canada, New Zealand, and the United Kingdom to enable a shipping company to construct two new liners for the Pacific service between Canada and Australia.

The Premier said details had not been settled, and that legislation would not be introduced until the next session of Parliament.

The question of competition in the Pacific from subsidized United States liners was discussed at the recent Imperial Conference. No decision was reached, although it was suggested two new British liners be built and partly subsidized by the Government of the United Kingdom, Canada, Australia and New Zealand.

Horrors of Conflict Should Be Known

MRS. TENA HART

WAS in the lobby of the Palace Hotel when a shell plunged through the roof, demolishing two floors and killing the occupants. She also saw the second shell explode in the refugee-congested street in front of the hotel, stranding the pavement in an instant with hundreds of torn and bleeding bodies. Mrs. Hart, who is well known to Vancouver Island stock raisers, says she hopes that all the world will come to realize the mercurial destruction inflicted by the Japanese on defenceless women and children.
